

The Birthday Experience Manual

Hey, my name is Aimee Cerka and I'm super glad you downloaded The Birthday Experience Manual.

Read it over, and once your done send me an email. I'd love to meet you!

If we are just meeting then what you'll learn about me is that I'm passionate about helping others make the most of their finances and empowering them to be able to create the life that they want to live.

The best part about it is, that what that life looks like for me isn't necessarily what it looks like for you and that's okay! With that in mind though, I want you to know that I will be straight to the point with you. If you had what you were looking for now, then you wouldn't need me!

We all create these dreams of what we want our lives to look like when we are kids, but the important skills to help us get those dreams are not taught in high school or college. Our parents don't even know most the time because society has evolved quickly and the rules that are applicable today are not the same ones that applied to them. (That applies to everyone, it doesn't matter how old or young you are.)

I'm not sure what it is for you but know that it is possible for all income levels!
